Environmental Technology Network Danube Region

Company/Institution DE

Umwelttechnik BW

Project description

Being part of Priority Area 8, the Umwelttechnik BW is in charge of the development and operation of an Environmental Technology Network in the Danube Region. The initiative focuses on supporting Small and Medium-sized Enterprises, which entails networking with research organisations. Our mission in the Danube Region:

- Improving communication between potential partners
- Supporting networking and business between companies and planners to enable joint project acquisition
- Identifying potential projects in view of turning them into reality

Project goal

Goals of the Environmental Technology Network in the Danube Region:

- Carry out sustainable improvements to the environment
- Increase market opportunities for environmental technologies and resource efficiency
- Continuous networking
  - Encourage and promote initiatives and projects
  - Bring together stakeholders through events and network meetings, which have a technical and regional focus

Beneficiaries and target groups

The beneficiaries and target groups are enterprises, stakeholders, as well as various existing and expanding networks from the business, science and public sectors in the Danube Region countries.

Constraints and risk appraisal

Possible risks may arise from changing decision makers and counterparts due to the political situation in many countries of the Danube Region.
